

GELSEY KIRKLAND ACADEMY

December 28, 2018

To Whom it May Concern:

In 2015 Ground Control Floors built one of Gelsey Kirkland Academy of Classical Ballet's fabulous dance floors at our Brooklyn, New York studios and theater. The floors were built with no fuss in just a few days.

Juan Carlos Torres is totally dedicated to the dance profession and understands the needs of the dancer.

Ground Control Floors are resilient and have a beautiful soft and silent feel to the dancer. All of the dancers at GKA comment on how great they feel and that they help prevent stress injuries.

The list of companies that have rehearsed and performed on these floors at our studios and theater include American Ballet Theatre, New York City Ballet, Chicago the Musical, National Theater of England's production of Angels in America, So You Think You Can Dance, 20th Century Fox's new production of Westside Story directed by Steven Spielberg and many more.

It is with complete confidence that we recommend Ground Control Floors for all dance floor needs.

Sincerely,

Gelsey Kirkland and Michael Chernov
